AMANDA PIEJAK

Warsaw, Poland

Amanda Piejak operates from her own private space, Vidok Studio, in Warsaw, Poland. BEHIND THE TATTOO

“The inspiration for my drawings comes from reflections on transience, emotions and the human psyche. I create these surrealistic graphics in A4 format, using a Micron 005 fineliner, which allows me to achieve an incredibly detailed grain effect. This technique is very time-consuming, and achieving perfect granularity requires immense precision and patience. Drawing is an endless form of expression for me. I can include everything in it without paying attention to the size of the elements, unlike in tattooing on the skin. My drawings were an introduction to the dotwork technique in tattoos. When drawing, I don't feel the pressure of time, allowing me to completely immerse myself in the creative process.”

JOOA

Seoul, South Korea

Jooa, a tattoo artist from Seoul, South Korea, is known for her nomadic lifestyle, travelling the world and undertaking guest spots at various tattoo studios such as The Gallery in New York, Mommy I'm Sorry in Stuttgart, Germany, and Label Tattoo in London. Initially pursuing her studies in fashion and textile design at the University of Suwon, she transitioned to tattooing in 2020.

Specialising in hyper-realistic single needle tattoos, she creates visually striking designs inspired by gold accessories and baroque elements. Her impressive portfolio often depicts metallic and gold elements with a whimsical twist. Jooa's sophisticated designs are executed with precision and security, reflecting her commitment to delivering high-quality work.

MFOX

mfox is the alias of tattoo artist Michele Volpi, born and raised in the village of Sant'Elpidio a Mare, Italy. From humble beginnings, Michele embarked on a journey to chase his dreams, facing the challenges alone. Despite attending ITIS, a technical school in Fermo, his heart resonated with figurative and artistic drawings. Over time, Michele developed a passion for various drawing techniques that led him to explore charcoal and pen drawing. Initially fascinated by mandala drawings, he later transitioned to scientific illustrations and conceptual designs.

Today, mfox is an acclaimed artist renowned for his minimalistic approach and monochromatic tattoo designs: meticulously executed scientific concepts infused with a hint of surrealism. Michele has strived to cultivate his unique style, drawing inspiration from his love for science, scientific illustrations and vintage atlases. Volpi started tattooing in 2014 and eventually established his own studio, META tattoo lab, in Bologna in 2022.
